MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Program to Be Observed at Church of the Epiphany. At a meeting of the committee of members of the different patriotic societies of the District of Columbia, held yesterday afternoon, having in charge the memorial service commemorating the 100th anniversary of the death of George Washington, to be held in the Church of the Epiphany, December 14 at 4 o'clock, the entire program was definitely decided upon, although certain details have still been left in the hands of subcommittees to be finally completed.

The matter of decorating the church with flowers and flags has been left to the Soolety of the Sons of the Revolution, while the arrangement for the seating of members and guests is in charge of Mr. William H. Pierce, representing the Sons of the American Revolution. The music and the programs are in charge of the Daugh-ters of the American Revolution. Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, rector of the Church state, will be the orator of the occasion.

It is expected that the patriotic societies will meet at some convenient place and march in a body to the church.

WEEK ENDING DECEMBER 2, 1899. War was published; it urged a permanent increase of the army and outlined plans for the government of Porto Rico. The annual report of the Secretary of the Interior urged changes in the pension system. As between Secretary Root and General Leonard Wood, military governor of the prov-ince of Santiago, Cuba, it was decided to reduce the American military Cuba preparatory to the institution of insular self-government. The financial bill of the republican caucus committee of the House was published. A conference of leading republican members of the House was held to consider the case of Repre-sentative-elect Roberts; it was decided that sentative-eject rober's, it was decoded that the question of his eligibility to a seat should be referred to a special committee. Contracts for the construction of six cruisers were let to as many firms. In his annual report the controller of the cur-rency recommended an increase in the cir-culation of the national banks. The cam-na in I luzon progressed without definite paign in Luzon progressed without definite results, although the insurgents were fur-ther disintegrated; Aguinaldo was reported to have fled to Bengued, in northern Luzon, closely pursued by General Young; American marines, after a bombardment, occu-pied the town of Yugan, at the mouth of the river Abra, a short distance west of Bengued; General Lawton occupied Bayon-bong and began negotiations for the surrender of a large body of insurgents near that place; Aguinaldo's mother and eldest son fell into the hands of American troops, who protected them from the fury of the who protected them from the fury of the natives; his youngest child died; an escaped prisoner reported that Lieutenant Gilmore, chortly after his capture at Baler, was condemned by General Luna to be shot, but, with his comrades, was saved by Aguinaldo's order; many Spanish and some American prisoners were retaken by the Americans along the western coast of Luzon above Lingayan; reports from Mindanao indicated the complete pacification of the island. The national committee of the silver republicans decided, after a conference in Chicago, to join forces with the democracy contingent upon the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform and the nomination of "the right men;" negotiations nation of "the right men;" negotiations were opened between leading silver republicans and the anti-imperialists to operation. It was announced that Senator Hanna would probably withdraw from the management of the next republican cam-paign, on account of his health. The oldestablished publishing house of Harper & Bros. announced an assignment to cover debts amounting to several millions. Fire debts amounting to several millions. Fire in Philadelphia destroyed the major portion of a block of business houses, including the publishing plant of the Lippincott Company; the total losses aggregated upward of $3,000,000. Joseph Wilkins of Washington and Howard Butler of Philadelphia were sent to prison in Philadelphia for a violation of the oleomargarine law.

ng those who died was Charles Cogh-Foreign Affairs. Gen. Methuen, advancing to the relief of Kimberley, defeated the Boers at Gras Pan, with heavy losses on both sides; later he advanced to Modder's river, twenty miles south of Kimberley, where he again de-feated the Boers after a battle which he described as the bloodiest in the century; he was wounded; the losses were very large and had not been reported in detail at the close of the week; no decisive fighting occurred elsewhere, the forces in Natal drawing closer to each other; an official an-nouncement was made by the British govters of the American Revolution.

Randolph H. McKim, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, also chaplain of the Sons of the Revolution, has taken charge of the service itself, and has provided a beautiful musical program, which begins somewhat solemnly, as is proper for a memorial serbul leads up to the patriotic and terbul leads up to the patriotic and the United States approximating and alliance; he warned France throughout Europe. Emperor William re-turned to Berlin from England. An Anglo-Egyptian army defeated the dervishes near Omdurman and killed the khallfa and other leaders; Gen. Osman Digna escaped; Lord Kitchener announced that with this victory the Sudan could be declared open. The French chamber of deputies voted a credit for re-establishing an embassy at the Vat-ican. Dr. Bacelli, Italian minister of fi-nance, announced in the chamber of depu-ties at Rome that the budgets of 1898-'99-ciceed with a surplus. Prominent Mussul-mans were arrested in Constantinople on a charge of plotting to assassinate the sul-tan.

In the District.

The committee of arrangements for the capital centennial celebration met and started work in preparation for that event. Under the Scientific Supervision of PROF. von FODOR, Director of the Hygienic Institute, Royal University, Buda Pest.

started work in preparation for that event. Arguments were delivered before Judge Barnard in the telephone rate cases. The fair of the Typograhical Union was opened. A charge of receiving bribes was entered against Police Sergeant McNeely. More smallpox cases were discovered. Kate Jackson, colored, was beaten to death by George Ashton, also colored. Among those who died was ex-Senator Thomas W. Tipton of Nebraska.

Variable Winds. Forecast till 8 p.m. Sunday-For the District of Columbia, eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, fair; colder tonight. Sunday fair; light to fresh variable winds.

Weather conditions and general forecast-The principal disturbance on the weather map has now reached the upper St. Lawrence valley, but marked depression overlies the country westward through the lake regions into the middle Missouri valley, with a secondary disturbance central in the latter district.

During the past twenty-four hours there have been light rains from Michigan and Ohio eastward, and also in the south Atcase ward, and also in the south Ar-lantic states, followed by clearing weather, except on the lower lakes, in New England and eastern Florida. There have also been light local rains and snows in the extreme west and northwest.

A wave of decided high pressure has ap-neared in British Columbia extending peared in British Columbia, extending southward into the middle plateau. The advance of this high area, which will spread to the east and south, will cause a general fall in temperature, which will extend slowly eastward, and comparatively low temperature will likely continue for low temperature will likely continue for some time

Unsettled weather and showers are indicated Sunday in the Ohio valley and lower lake region, with possibly some snow flurries near the lakes. Fair weather will pre-vail in the Atlantic, southern and south western states.

It will be colder tonight in the middle Atlantic states and New England and in the eastern portion of the Carolinas. It will probably be colder Sunday in the Texas Panhandle and Oklahoma. On the New England coast the winds will be fresh west to north. On the middle and south Atlantic coast they will be fresh northerly, becoming variable Sunday.
